

Brand and visual Identity guidelines

February 2018

Introduction

Visual guide 2018

A brand is the sum impression that the representations create in the mind of our audiences. It's an integrated personality and positioning that projects the unique image and values of our network.

Those applying this consistent approach to their own communications will benefit from the credibility and equity the brand has already established. The values and reputation associated with the international network as a whole will immediately apply to the author of any communications piece aligned with the brand.

It is vital that all areas associated with WSLALOM make a concerted effort to express what they represent and reinforce it consistently. This guide provides the reference for the creation of the identity that align with the brand.
